Informed Consent

The Informed Consent is a process in which a person is given important facts about a medical procedure or treatment, a clinical trial, or genetic testing before deciding whether or not to participate.

We ask you to do the informed consent procedure that also includes informing the patient when there is new information that may affect his or her decision to continue. The informed consent includes information about the possible risks, benefits, and limits of the procedure, treatment, trial, or genetic testing.

We show you the TEMPLATE by World Health Organization as following website.
